Sleeping bags for babies with eczema

This one is for all the mums & dads with a child that suffers from eczema! I haven't experienced eczema myself, but I know that it can be terribly frustrating for both baby & parent.

Eczema (also known as Atopic Dermatitis) is a painful skin condition suffered by up to one in three babies or young children.

Australia has one of the highest incidences of eczema world-wide. The skin disease is most prevalent in children, with up to 90% developing symptoms by age five and 60% of these developing the condition in their first 12 months of life

It is a red and often scaly rash that is extremely itchy, causing distress to both the child and their parents. Often this rash can weep or turn into sores on the skin and it's not uncommon for infection to occur.

Kelly Northey's son was diagnosed with eczema, and she cleverly created the Bamboo Bubby Bag which doesn't aggravate skin and has handcovers to prevent scratching.

Made from bamboo and organic cotton fabric, the Bamboo Bubby Bag breathable, absorbent and hypo-allergenic. It is also thermal regulating, which will keep your baby cooler in summer and warmer in winter – so unlike other sleeping bags, you can use your Bamboo Bubby Bag all year round.

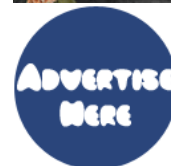

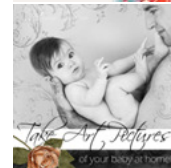

It's a fantastic innovation for parents who are looking for a little relief when it comes to eczema and other allergies. Prices start from $69.95 for 1 baby sleeping bag.
